PROBLEM

The Information Age has come upon us where there is a rise in the need to get data at your fingertips. Jamaica has information available for its general population, however, that data is not so accessible. People need to be able to have an idea of what is going on, where it is going on and how things are happening. Murder has been a fluctuating statistic in the Jamaican population and there is a need to be able to have some amount of access to these numbers.

An online platform will be created to facilitate the dissemination of statistics which gives the general population an avenue to have information at their fingertips. It will allow users to view murder numbers by parish, by a specific date or date range giving them the information they need for whatever purpose, may it be school research or general information.
